Veggie Box

Week of September 24, 2015

Michigan squash has hit the market. Autumn has arrived and brought many of our favorites with it, squash and potatoes to start. We enjoyed working with our farmers to bring you the bountiful fall delight this week!

Producer Spotlight:
Rust Belt Roastery

After falling in love over a cup of coffee in Baja, Mexico, Paul and Emily Nichols began their search for their own coffee bean roaster. The couple eventually discovered their antique Italian roaster and immediately began making magic. They roast their coffee beans with hardwood, yielding a deeply rich, unique, and delicious coffee flavor. Paul and Emily also have a strict policy on only purchasing beans that have been grown in humane and environmentally sustainable conditions. They are regulars at many area Farmer’s Markets, offering cold-brews, coffee beans, and even their own organic chocolate!

Crop Profile:
Delicata Squash

Delicata squash is a winter squash described as cylindrical fruits, which are cream-colored with green stripes. As the name suggests, it has characteristically a delicate skin that results in a shorter shelf life than other more tough skinned squash. It is also known as peanut squash, Bohemian squash, or sweet potato squash. Although consumed mature as a winter squash, delicata squash belongs to the same species as all types of summer squash in the US. Delicata squash can be prepared by baking, steaming, microwaving or sautéing. The squash can also be stuffed with meats or grains and baked. It is a good source of dietary fiber and potassium, as well as smaller amounts of vitamins C and B, magnesium, and manganese.

GALETTES DU LARATTE

TRANSLATED FROM AUDINETTE

Ingredients
- 1 delicata squash
- 1 tablespoon olive oil
- 1 tablespoons balsamic vinegar
- 1 tablespoons honey
- 1/2 bunch kale, cut into 1-inch pieces
- 1 small shallot, finely chopped
- 1 garlic clove, minced
- 2 teaspoons red-wine vinegar
- 1/2 teaspoon coarse salt
- Freshly ground pepper
- 8 oz cooked cranberry or cannellini beans, drained and rinsed

Preheat oven to 400 degrees. Cut squashes into 1/2-inch-thick semicircles. Toss with 1 teaspoon oil, and spread onto a parchment-lined baking sheet. Bake until just tender, 15 to 18 minutes. Mix together balsamic vinegar and honey. Brush some of the mixture onto squash slices; reserve remaining mixture. Bake for 5 minutes more.

Meanwhile, place kale in a large bowl. Heat remaining tablespoon oil in a small saucepan over medium heat. Add shallot and garlic, and cook until slightly softened, about 4 minutes. Add red-wine vinegar and remaining vinegar-honey mixture to saucepan, and bring to a boil. Immediately pour hot dressing over kale, and sprinkle with salt. Season with pepper. Add squash and beans. Cover with plastic, and let stand for 5 minutes. Toss until kale wilts slightly. Serve warm or at room temperature.
