Now that you have all this fresh produce, you may be left wondering how to properly store it all. We are here to help with some tips and tricks! Most fruits and veggies can be stored in the refrigerator. A crisper drawer will help protect your produce and keep the moisture in to maintain freshness for longer. Plastic bags with tiny vents help keep produce fresh longer by releasing moisture. Asparagus should be stored in the refrigerator, wrapped with a moist paper towel or you can stand them up in a glass of cold water wrapped with a damp paper towel. Store carrots in the fridge and peel them when you’re ready to use them (if you feel they need ot be peeled. Fresh heads of lettuce should be washed really well with water before refrigerating. Dry the leaves and store them in a clean plastic bag with a few paper towels. Rhubarb should be wrapped in plastic and stored in the fridge, but it also freezes well. Freezing most vegetables at home is a fast, convenient way to preserve produce at their peak maturity and nutritional quality, but some things you will need to blanch first! Garlic and onions should be kept at room temperature (or cooler) in a well-ventilated area. Tomatoes should be stored at room temperature and washed just before using. What are other types of produce you have questions about how to store? Thank you for supporting local food!

Bok Choi

A deep green leafy vegetable that resembles Romaine lettuce on top and a large celery on the bottom, bok choi is a crucifer more closely related to cabbage. The entire vegetable can be used, and is often added raw to salads for a satisfying crunch. In soups, the leaves and stalks should be chopped and added separately, since the stalks take longer to cook. Cultivated in China for centuries, bok choi has played a large part not only in its cuisine, but in traditional Chinese medicine. Containing a wealth of vitamins C, A, and K, and excellent sources of calcium, magnesium, potassium, manganese, and iron, bok choi deserves its reputation as a powerhouse among vegetables.
Recipes and Tips!

Bok Choi Vegetable Stir Fry

Sauce:
2 tablespoon Honey or maple syrup
1/2 teaspoon freshly grated ginger, or 1/8 tsp dried daughter Garlic, minced
1 tablespoon Rice Wine Vinegar
2 tablespoons Soy Sauce

Stir Fry:
1 teaspoon light sesame oil
Veggie Box bok choy, washed and cut into 1 inch strips
2 large carrots peeled in strips or 1/2 cup matchstick carrots
Veggie box scallions, diced
1 tablespoon sesame seeds
1/4 cup chopped cilantro if desired

Stir together all the ingredients for the sauce and set aside. Heat sesame oil in a large wok or skillet over medium-high heat. Add in bok choy, carrots, scallions and sesame seeds. Stir continuously for 3 minutes and then add in sauce. Cook until sauce has coated the vegetables and heated through. Serve with a sprinkle of cilantro if desired.

Suggestion: Add 1 package of extra firm tofu for some protein!

Lemon Garlic Sautéed Bok Choi

Veggie Box Bok Choi
1 1/2 table spoons of extra virgin olive oil
Veggie Box green garlic (white and light green part), minced
Pinch crushed red pepper flakes
Sea Salt
Half a lemon, cut into wedges

Place the bok choy into a colander and rinse with cool water, cleaning any grit between the leaves. Trim the ends and slice each bok choy in half lengthwise. Pat dry. Add garlic, pepper flakes, and garlic to a wide skillet. Place over medium heat and cook, stirring occasionally, until the oil begins to bubble around the garlic, but before it begins to turn light brown. Toss in the bok choy and spread into one layer. Sprinkle with 1/4 a teaspoon of salt then cook, without stirring, until bottom starts to turn brown, about 2 minutes. Flip and cook another 2 minutes. Transfer to platter and squeeze 2 lemon wedges on top.

Strawberry Rhubarb Jam

1 bunch rhubarb, chopped
Veggie Box strawberries, diced
2 cups white sugar
2 teaspoons grated orange zest
1/3 cup orange juice
1/2 cup water

In a saucepan, combine the rhubarb, strawberries, sugar, orange zest, orange juice and water. Bring to a boil, then cook over medium-low heat for 45 minutes, stirring occasionally, or until thick. It will thicken more as it cools. Ladle into hot sterile jars, and seal with lids and rings. Let jars cool, before storing in the refrigerator.
